

Trinity, Tex. Jan. 30 1934

Mr. Willie Reinhardt,
Pluck, Texas.

Dear Will:

As I understand from your conversation of yesterday, and from what you have told both Fred, and me of late, that you are not able to take care of the two Notes you owe me, and which are now due, together with 7% interest, I have concluded that there is nothing else left for me to do but to give you some more time, and in order to make it as easy as possible on you, I have drawn up two new notes, in the same amount of the two which I now hold, that is $650.00 each, but bearing only 6% interest, instead of 7, and maturing in Jan. 1935, and Jan. 1936 respectively.

I will ask that you sign the two new notes, and return them to me at your earliest convenience.

You will note that I have not figured any interest, and added to the new notes, as I intend to leave the matter of paying the interest on the old notes entirely to your Honor, and honesty. And since you are not able to pay any of it in cash, I will be glad to take all, or any part of it in Trade of any kind, just to keep from adding it to the principal, and making the notes that much larger.

I will make you another offer, and that is: I will give you one of the notes, marked PAID in Full, for your one fourth interest in the old Reinhardt Home Place, if you will deed same to Fred. You ofcourse understand that this is more than half of what the entire Place is worth, but as I said before, I want to make it as light as possible on you while times are so hard, and therefore, in order to reduce the amount you owe me as low as possible, I am making this more than liberal offer. If you care to do this, I will be glad to meet you in Corrigan at any time in order to get the Deed fixed up.

If you care to do this you can advise me of date you want me and Fred to come down to close the deal, when you mail the new notes back to me. Ofcourse, I will upon receipt of the new notes at once mail the two old notes to you, or, if you want to make the land trade, I will bring them down at the time I and Fred come to complete that.

yours truly

E. W. Spletts toesser
